Workplace Volunteer Systems – Connecting Corporations to Caring

Workplace Volunteer Systems (WVS) is a customized version of the Volunteer Solutions site that allows corporations to connect their employees to quality, vetted volunteer opportunities.

Workplace Volunteer Systems (WVS) is a technology solution for Workplace civic engagement programs. As part of a suite of United eWay tools, WVS provides companies a fully branded web presence to promote volunteer opportunities and events while taking advantage of a robust reporting system to track employee interests and hours volunteered. United Way is a historical leader in the volunteer arena, utilizing more than one million volunteers each year in all aspects of its operations and in communities across America. Drawing upon this experience and expertise, United Way of America, in partnership with Volunteer Centers across the country, has created a customizable tool that makes it easy, and cost-effective, for corporations to manage effective efficient volunteer programs.

COMPANY ADMINISTRATORS CAN:

- Generate reports on total employee impact in their community
- Quickly identify “top” volunteers in terms of the number of hours
- Identify the social issues and/or groups with which employees are most interested
- Approve hours and otherwise manage hours submitted by employees
- Organize and manage volunteer events
- Download online data into other popular applications like Microsoft Excel, Access or as a .PDF file
- And much, much more ...

WITH WVS, EMPLOYEES CAN:

- Access a fully branded Workplace volunteerism portal
- Search online for meaningful opportunities
- Easily log their hours for any volunteer work they have performed
- Volunteer with other employees at community or company sponsored volunteer events
- Create email alerts to receive interesting local volunteer opportunities
- And much, much more ...
